   Mr. Welch advised the Board that there were four safety-related training programs conducted in the month of September. He indicated that Operations D Test training as also conducted.

   Mr. Welch explained that there were two new groundskeeper / custodians hired this month, so the Authority now has a full complement of groundskeepers. He pointed out that the mechanic position is still open and was re-posted earlier that day.

   Mr. Welch also explained that a tentative agreement has been reached with the Teamster’s union that will be presented at the November Board meeting.

   He further advised that Health and Safety Manager Don Nichols just finished securing his Level I OSHA General Industry Certificate as well as his Construction Certificate. Mr. Welch stated that this is quite an accomplishment for Mr. Nichols and for YCUA.

K. Director’s Report – Jeff Castro
   Mr. Castro advised the Board that YCUA staff continues to attend the MDEQ Lead and Copper training. He indicated that the new Lead and Copper Rule will affect the Authority effective immediately.

   Mr. Castro explained that YCUA is currently taking 13 samples every three years and that this will be increasing to annual sampling. He pointed out that the next sampling will take place June through September of 2019 in order to comply with MDEQ and EPA requirements. Mr. Castro also explained that YCUA will be required to establish and maintain a minimum of 30 sample sites to be approved by MDEQ and another 40 by the first of the year 2020. He further advised that YCUA plans to send about 75 sites as redundancy.
Mr. Castro stated that the hope is that the Authority will stay below the action level and, therefore, can revert to the 30 annual sample sites going forward.

He acknowledged that MDEQ is also requiring new sampling procedures for the Bacti sample sites, increasing them from 20 samples per month to 60 samples per month. Mr. Castro confirmed that Bacti sampling is a check for coliform bacteria at three sampling sites: one main, one upstream and one downstream.

He explained that the new lead and copper rule is very difficult to understand and that normally, a sampling for a lead and copper site is one draw and now it could be up to five sample vials. Mr. Castro pointed out that MDEQ has offered to allow YCUA to take the samples on homeowners’ behalf. He also stated that he will keep the Board posted as things move forward.

Ms. Stumbo inquired as to how many lead and copper sites are in the area. Mr. Castro responded that the number is yet to be determined. He advised that YCUA doesn’t know what customers have unless services between the main and the property line were replaced during road construction projects. He indicated that recommendations were made beginning in the 1990s to replace lead service lines when such work was done but that customers may have done the work themselves.

Mr. Castro explained that this is a trying time attempting to identify all these services and that meter and Service Center staff have been documenting services home-by-home for the last year or two, including taking photos and entering the information into an electronic database. He pointed out YCUA will submit this data to MDEQ in a preliminary inventory on January 1, 2020. He pointed out that that MDEQ will then determine which services should be replaced based on whether sampling results are in excess of the action level.

Mr. Castro also explained that the Authority has a rule in place that will be submitted to MDEQ that YCUA will maintain the water services from the property line to the water main.

He further advised that, during this time, YCUA will be establishing a Lead and Copper Advisory Committee at the direction of MDEQ that will meet at least once per year and will discuss moving forward under the new lead and copper rule. Mr. Castro stated that every utility with a population of 50,000 or more is being required to establish such a committee by recruiting individuals from the general public that have shown interest in the lead and copper rule. He acknowledged that he has had 30 or 40 customers express initial interest.

Mr. Bodary asked for more information on the coliform testing, which Mr. Castro then explained.
